Reference is made to letterhead memorandum captioned "EDWARD MICHAEL KEATING, 'Ramparts' Magazine", dated October 30, 1964, at New York, New York, and letterhead memorandum captioned "EDWARD MICHAEL KEATING, Editor and Publisher, 'Ramparts' Magazine, Atherton, California" dated November 17, 1964, at San Francisco, California.

The May 20, 1965, edition of the "San Francisco Examiner", a San Francisco daily newspaper, contains an advertisement captioned "Join Us Today and Tomorrow, Viet Nam Day, May 21-22." This advertisement states this would be an educational protest on the Berkeley University of California campus continuing for three hours. The program, printed in the advertisement, lists EDWARD KEATING, Editor, "Ramparts" Magazine, as a speaker on the program between 4:00 and 4:30 p.m. on Friday, May 21, 1965.

On August 2, 1965, a source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, furnished a leaflet announcing activities to be held under the sponsorship of the Haight - Ashbury Committee to End the War in Viet Nam. This leaflet indicates that on August 6, 1965, there will be an open forum on Viet Nam featuring several speakers. Among those listed is EDWARD KEATING, Editor of "Ramparts" Magazine. This forum is to be held at 1350 Waller Street, the All Saints Episcopal Church, San Francisco, California. Source was unable to state whether or not KEATING appeared as a speaker at this meeting.

The Haight-Ashbury Committee to End the War in Viet Nam is a group from the Haight-Ashbury District of San Francisco who oppose the war in Viet Nam.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Reference is made to memorandum dated September 27, 1965, at San Francisco, California.

The "Advance-Star and Green Sheet," a Burlingame, California, publication, issue of December 12, 1965, contains an article captioned "Keating Says He's 'Running.'" This article indicated that Edward M. Keating, 40, of Atherton, California, editor and publisher of "Ramparts" magazine, announced that week that he would be a candidate for the Congressional District seat representing all of San Mateo County in the next year's election.

The Burlingame "Advance-Star and Green Sheet" issue of March 23, 1966, page 2A, reported that Edward M. Keating of Atherton the previous day paid a filing fee of $300 as a candidate for representative in Congress to San Mateo County Clerk John A. Bruning. This article identified Keating as editor-publisher of "Ramparts" magazine.

"Ramparts" magazine has recently changed location and has moved from Menlo Park, California, to its current address of 301 Broadway, San Francisco, California.

The "San Mateo Times," a San Mateo, California, daily publication, issue of March 30, 1965, contains an article captioned "M.P. Journal Sues Wallace." This article reveals that "Ramparts" magazine of Menlo Park announced that date that they would institute a $2,500,000 libel action against Governor George C. Wallace of Alabama. The article indicates Wallace termed "Ramparts" a "pro-Communist publication" on a nation-wide television program the previous

VIETNAM DAY COMMITTEE (VDC)

A booklet published by the VDC contained the following policy statement of the VDC adopted by the general membership, June, 1965:

The Vietnam Day Committee is a group of students, faculty and other members of the Bay area community opposed to American intervention in Vietnam, the Dominican Republic and wherever else it may occur. Revolutionary struggles for self-determination are sweeping the world today. American suppression of these movements, we believe, is immoral and a threat to the peace of the world. The Vietnam Day Committee is organizing non-violent direct actions, teach-ins, door-to-door organizing and other educational activities to oppose American intervention. We believe that the struggle for self-determination in other countries is related to the struggle for democracy in America--a democracy in which the people have the facts and the power to make decisions for themselves. The struggles in America against racism, poverty, and bureaucratic conformity are part of the same movement as the struggle against American militarism. We must build a New America and join with those people in Asia, Africa and Latin America building a New World.

On July 31, 1965, a champagne reception given under the auspices of the Concerned Citizens was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keating, 54 Rosewood Drive, Atherton, California.

Concerned Citizens is a group open to the public which has been formed in San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties, California, which opposes the escalation of U. S. participation in Vietnam.

A second source advised on October 4, 1965, that Edward Keating of "Ramparts" magazine had been invited by the VDC to participate in a teach-in to be held October 15, 1965. It was pointed out that Keating had previously contributed to the May 21-22, 1965, teach-in at Berkeley, California, sponsored by the VDC.

The "People's World" (PW), issue of November 13, 1965, page 3, columns 1 - 4, contains an article captioned, "The Press and Problems of Society." This article identifies Edward Keating of "Ramparts" magazine as one of four speakers at a forum held by the Bay Area Friends of the PW on Friday, November 5, 1965, at the Sun-Reporter Building, San Francisco, California.

The PW is a west coast communist newspaper published at San Francisco, California.

EDWARD MICHAEL KEATING

Mr. Keating, who has not been the subject of an investigation by the FBI, is the Editor in Chief of "Ramparts" magazine, which is published at Menlo Park, California. This magazine has been self-described as "the Catholic journal of independent opinion" but has no official ties with the Catholic Church.

Mr. Keating came to the attention of the FBI in October, 1964, in connection with statements he made in a special edition of "Ramparts" captioned "Mississippi Eyewitness" indicating he was willing to turn over to the Justice Department information he had obtained concerning the murder of three civil rights workers in Mississippi. Upon being contacted by Special Agents of the FBI, he advised that he had never been in Mississippi, that he had not personally obtained any evidence concerning this crime and that he knew absolutely nothing about any sources who might have been eyewitnesses as described in his article. Mr. Keating has been an outspoken critic of the FBI, frequently making baseless charges or allegations concerning the work of this Bureau.

In July, 1965, information was received from a reliable source that Mr. Keating was interested in traveling to Cuba for the purpose of gathering information on religious life in Cuba. It was also pointed out that he hoped to have an interview with Prime Minister Fidel Castro. We have received no subsequent information indicating that Mr. Keating did actually travel to Cuba.

NOTE: Per request of Mr. Connell of the Vice President's Office.

Edward Michael Keating

Mr. Keating has frequently criticized U. S. intervention in the Dominican Republic and in Vietnam. In this regard, he was scheduled to speak at an educational protest forum at the University of California at Berkeley on May 21, 1965, concerning U.S. intervention in Vietnam. No subsequent information has been received indicating whether Mr. Keating did actually participate in this protest meeting.

Your attention is directed to the memorandum captioned "Edward Michael Keating," dated September 27, 1965, at San Francisco, California, a copy of which has been provided your office.

In addition to the above, in December, 1966, a confidential informant made available a "Call For Vigils to End the War in Vietnam" and a press release issued by A. J. Muste. This material shows the officially adopted name of instant organization as the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam.

Another confidential informant has advised that Edward Keating was one of four vice presidents of the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam to serve under the leadership of A. J. Muste.

The "New York Evening Journal," issue of April 28, 1942, contained an article captioned "Ex-Red Won't Register," which related that A. J. Muste had refused to register under the Selective Service Act. He was described as a former leader of the Trotskyite faction of the communist movement in this country.

Dear [REDACTED]

I have received your letter of April 5th and want to thank you for your congratulations on my receiving the 33rd Degree in Masonry. As you can imagine, this was a great honor and one which I will cherish always.

I also want to thank you for furnishing me the information you forwarded regarding Edward Keating and "Ramparts" magazine. You may be certain I appreciate your thoughtfulness.

b7C

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

NOTE: Bufiles disclose [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] We have no record of any prior correspondence with him. Edward Keating is the Editor-Publisher of "Ramparts" and has been critical of United States policy in Vietnam. He is one of the leaders of a mass demonstration which is to be staged in San Francisco on 4/15/67. This demonstration is being sponsored by the Spring Mobilization to end the war in Vietnam, and the membership of this outfit includes Communist Party and Socialist Workers Party members. Dear Mr. Hoover,

I have just recently heard some interesting information
I desire to pass on to your Subversive detail.

[redacted] went to hear a speaker at Occidental
College, in the Highland Park section of Los Angeles.

She found this man to be EDWARD KEATING, the Publisher of the RAMPART Magazine, who I am certain is known to you.

He spoke on April 3, 1967 in the evening, in one of the numerous "Halls".

b7C [redacted]
He maligned Mr. Johnson, Mr. Dulles, Mr. Reagan, of course you and many others.

She stated that he viciously attacked our government, its policies, and practically advocated treason.

You might have had this character under surveillance on the nite in question, but in case you did not, the thoughts may be of interes

[redacted]
Also, let me warmly congragulate you on the fact that you have received the 33rd Degree in our great fraternity.

Respectfully,

[redacted]

For [redacted]

I thought you might like to have the following information:

According to a UPI dispatch of January 17, 1968, a campaign is under way to collect a million signatures to petitions urging the impeachment of President Johnson for "high crimes" in the Vietnam war. John Malcom Williams, a Minneapolis attorney, said the campaign is being conducted by an organization called "Citizens for Governmental Restraint, Inc." Williams said he is National Chairman of the group as named along with Edward Keating of San Francisco and Corliss Lamont of New York City. He said they had about one thousand signatures and expected a million signatures before the petition would be presented to Congress, probably about May 1st. EDWARD MICHAEL KEATING

Our files contain no information identifiable with John Malcom Williams or the "Citizens for Governmental Restraint, Inc."

The fingerprint files of the Identification Division of the FBI contain no arrest data identifiable with John Malcom Williams based upon available background information.

Attached are separate memoranda concerning Corliss Lamont and Edward Michael Keating.

EDWARD MICHAEL KEATING

Mr. Keating, who has not been the subject of an investigation by the FBI, is the former Editor-in-Chief of "Ramparts" magazine, which is published at Menlo Park, California. This magazine has been self-described as "the Catholic journal of independent opinion" but has no official ties with the Catholic Church.

In October, 1964, Keating made statements in a special edition of "Ramparts" captioned "Mississippi Eyewitness" indicating he was willing to turn over to the Justice Department information he had obtained concerning the murder of three civil rights workers in Mississippi. Upon being contacted by Special Agents of the FBI, he advised that he had never been in Mississippi, that he had not personally obtained any evidence concerning this crime and that he knew absolutely nothing about any sources who might have been eyewitnesses as described in his article. Mr. Keating has been an outspoken critic of the FBI, frequently making baseless charges or allegations concerning the work of this Bureau.

In July, 1965, information was received from a reliable source that Mr. Keating was interested in traveling to Cuba for the purpose of gathering information on religious life in Cuba. It was also pointed out that he hoped to have an interview with Prime Minister Fidel Castro. The FBI has received no subsequent information indicating that Mr. Keating did actually travel to Cuba.

Mr. Keating has frequently criticized U. S. intervention in the Dominican Republic and in Vietnam. He was one of the directors of West Coast activities in connection with the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam. He traveled through a number of states speaking against the war in Vietnam and urging support of the Mobilization in 1967.

NOTE: Per request of [redacted] White House Staff.

The following references in the file captioned "Ramparts" contain information pertaining to the activities and relationship of Edward Keating with this magazine, with headquarters in San Francisco, during the period of May, 1962 - November, 1967. Keating was the founder of "Ramparts," and he was the president and publisher until April, 1967, when he was ousted because of differences over financial policies. Keating countered by filing suit against "Ramparts" for a large sum of money which he claimed he had loaned the firm. Details of Keating's financial involvement with "Ramparts" and a subsidiary corporation, Western Media Corporation, set out. "Ramparts" and Keating were critical of the US Government Vietnam policy and of the FBI.

The following references in the file captioned "VIDEM" (Demonstrations Protesting US Intervention in Vietnam) contain information regarding the activities of Edward M. Keating in relation to this movement during the period of 5/21/65 - 3/1/68. Keating, former publisher and editor of "Ramparts" magazine, allegedly directed the West Coast activities of the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (SMC), of which he was vice chairman. He signed a newspaper "Stop the War" advertisement and also a letter issued by the SMC urging support of its program. Keating was a frequent speaker at affairs sponsored by protest groups, at which time he condemned the US position in Vietnam, called for an end to the draft, and urged impeachment of President Johnson for leading the country to a dictatorship. Keating participated in activities in Minneapolis, Minn., Milwaukee, Wisc., Washington, D.C., and Los Angeles, Fullerton, Red Wood City, Berkeley, San Diego, and San Francisco, Calif.

This is a review of captioned book, published in 1971 by Ramparts Press, Incorporated, Berkeley, California. The book is being placed in the Bureau Library.

SYNOPSIS:

"Free Huey" from the author's viewpoint offers a chronology of events surrounding the trial of Huey P. Newton in connection with the death of Oakland, California, Police Officer John Frey on 10/28/67. The book actually presents an inaccurate image of Newton and gives a distorted account of his encounters with police authorities. This book tries to impart Newton has been the innocent victim of injustice.

Author mentions on Page 67, "Fruitless efforts were made to get the FBI and the Justice Department to investigate the killing of Hutton." This refers to Bobby James Hutton, a Black Panther Party (BPP) member, who was killed in gun battle with Oakland, California, police on 4/6/68. This is an unfounded attack since FBI conducted a preliminary inquiry at specific request of Department of Justice relative to alleged civil rights violations arising from gun battle which resulted in Hutton's death.

DETAILS:

REVIEW OF BUREAU FILES

Bureau files indicate Edward Michael Keating is a former editor of "Ramparts" magazine, which is published in California. "Ramparts" has been critical of the U. S. Government Vietnam policy and of the FBI. Keating has frequently criticized U. S. intervention in the Dominican Republic and Vietnam. He has also been an outspoken critic of the FBI, frequently making baseless charges or allegations concerning the work of the Bureau.

BOOK REVIEW

This book claims to offer a chronology of events surrounding the 1968 trial of BPP leader Huey P. Newton; however, it actually presents an inaccurate image of Newton, a cofounder of the revolutionary BPP. Distorted accounts are furnished of Newton's encounters and arrests by police authorities. The author, an attorney who helped defend Newton, admits that his fairness may be legitimately questioned. Newton is pictured as being honorable, religious, devoted to the welfare of his people, and one who has been continually harassed by police, although it was acknowledged Newton's past record would show his violence and practice of lying. Newton was indicted for murder, assault with a deadly weapon, and the kidnaping of a civilian in making his escape from the scene of the killing of Oakland, California, Police Officer John Frey during the early morning of 10/28/67. On 7/15/68 Newton's trial commenced and he was subsequently found guilty of voluntary manslaughter. The author claims Newton was prosecuted for political reasons and that it was fortunate the California Court of Appeals later reversed this conviction and that to the world his response is, "Free Huey." A subsequent trial of Newton resulted in a hung jury and the local district attorney has indicated he does not intend to ask for another trial of Newton.

MENTION OF THE FBI

On Page 67 it was reported, "Fruitless efforts were made to get the FBI and the Justice Department to investigate the killing of Hutton." This refers to Bobby James Hutton, a BPP member, who was killed by Oakland, California, police officers during a 90-minute gun battle 4/6/68 in which black extremist Eldridge Cleaver and several other BPP members were involved. Information presented to the Alameda County, California, Grand Jury indicated that an armed group of BPP members went looking for "some shooting" with police during the evening of 4/6/68 in West Oakland, California. This information presented to the Grand Jury resulted in eight BPP members being indicted and police authorities were exonerated in the killing of Bobby James Hutton. The BPP had charged that Hutton was shot down as he fled from a house clad only in shorts. The evidence showed he was fully clothed.

The FBI conducted a preliminary investigation during 1968 at the specific request of the Department of Justice relative to alleged civil rights violations arising from a shoot-out between BPP members and Oakland police on 4/6/68 which resulted in the death of Hutton. BPP members alleged harassment and mistreatment by Oakland police in that officers illegally and unlawfully killed Hutton. Neighborhood witnesses said Hutton was called on several times by police to surrender. Police stated Hutton refused to raise hands as ordered and was shot as he attempted to flee. Results of this investigation were appropriately disseminated to the Civil Rights Division of the Department. This allegation by Keating is false and is another example of his unfounded attacks upon the FBI.
